	The DDR Foreign Ministry became involved in a minor embarrassment on the occasion of the recall of General MacArthur. The interpretation of this recall made at the Foreign Ministry and published in its daily summary of world events was that MacArthur was recalled because of public opinion in the U.S., resulting from his ruthless and cruel prosecution of the Korean War. Shortly after this interpretation was published (for internal government use), the official Tass interpretation was made known, that the recall resulted from MacArthur's weakness, and incompetence in prosecuting the war.
